Notes for William Butler:

In 1830, William took a boat load of supplies down the Allegheny, Ohio and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans and was murdered there. His brother James went to look for him three years later and found out about his death.

Mrs. Davis describes William as follows: "William was rather tall, very strong, had shiny black hair and dark sparkling eyes. He was handsome, bright and smart. He was full of jokes and fun, always laughing and making others laugh with his jokes and funny stories. He was generous and kind. He was not a Catholic but a Protestant and attended Protestant services. She had often seen him laugh and have fun with Martha, his brother James' wife." The writer copied these statements at the time Mrs. Davis dictated them. She was the only person the writer ever met and talked with who knew in his youth William Butler's , the writer's father.

William worked for a time with his brother, James, at the Ross Furnace. Early in the year 1815, he married Sally Dias, whose father was Thomas Dias, a soldier in the Revolution, and who's mother was a Dillon, of an old aristocratic family in Ireland.

William Butler lived on part of his father's farm and there his children were born. By his second marriage, he had two sons and two daughters. William D. Butler, the writer, is the only one of the four children now living.

William Butler and Sarah Dias had the following children:

- i. John⁵ Butler¹⁴ was born in 1816 in Armagh, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.¹⁴ He died in 1832.¹⁴
32. ii. John Butler was buried in Old Blacklick Cemetery, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.
- ii. Samuel Butler^{14, 50, 169-172} was born on 25 Oct 1818 in Armagh, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.¹⁷³ He died on 29 Apr 1899 in East Wheatfield Township, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.^{14, 174} He married Elizabeth Fulcomer, daughter of John George Fulcomer and Catherine Cline, in May 1845. She was born on 11 Dec 1822 in York County, Pennsylvania.^{50, 175} She died on 03 Mar 1913 in East Wheatfield Township, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.¹⁷⁵

Samuel Butler was buried in Hice-Pershing Cemetery, East Wheatfield Cemetery, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Samuel Butler:

William David Butler, the writer of, "The Butler Family IN America" wrote, After his father's death, Samuel was raised up by his mother's parents and as of 1897 at the age of 79, he was still living. He is a lifelong, practical, prudent, and well-to-do-farmer.

While quite a lad, he entered the employ of Alexander Elliott in a general store at Armagh, then a principal stopping place for the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh stage on the old State turnpike. He remained three years with Elliott and saved all of his earnings. At this time, he joined the State militia with which he was for years connected. With his savings he bought timber land and started saw-mills in a modest way. He prospered in this business and steadily increased his holdings, enlarged his saw-mills and became a leader in the lumber business. As the lands were cleared of their timbers, he engaged in farming and stock raising, all the time in Indiana Co. PA.

In May, 1845, Samuel Butler was married to Elizabeth, daughter of George Faulkner (Falcomer) and Catherine Cline. daughter of Henry Cline, who served in the Rangers on the frontier during the Revolution (see PA. archives, Third Series, Vol. 23, pg. 209, 265)

Samuel was a model husband, a kind father, a Christian gentleman and a respected and honorable citizen. He ever displayed, as the grandson of a Revolutionary hero, the deepest interest in the affairs of his state and country. In politics, he was first a Whig and then a Republican and he never hesitated to let his public convictions be known, he however refused to allow his name to be used in connection with candidacy for a political office.

Samuel Butler, after his marriage, joined the Evangelical Lutheran Church, to which his wife already belonged. He was for many years treasurer and deacon in the church at New Florence. He practiced Christianity in his daily life, being ever ready to succor, serve and care for any whom he might find distress.

He passed away full of years and reverential respect, April 29, 1899, and was mourned sincerely and deeply by hundreds of his fellows. His mortal remains repose in the old family burial grounds one mile from where he spent so many generously fruitful years. At a young age he and a friend started off to Pittsburgh to enlist, but his father either got word or was suspicious and showed up before they could join. A few months later, in 1863, he slipped off again to Greenburg and enlisted when not quite seventeen. He got into the thick of the fight very soon; first as a guard at Washington, where he saw President Lincoln every day going to the hospitals for his regular visits.

Under the command of Col. Dick Coulter, he was ordered to take care of the Weldon Railroad. This command was part of the big effort to take Richmond. He was in the four day battle of the Wilderness and later Spotsylvania and Cold Harbor. He was shot through both legs, but not with the same bullet or at the same time, he attempted to crawl out of harm's way and was shot in the other leg.

He was a large man, more than six feet tall and built in proportion, and over the years he had sympathy and good-will to men.

Operated a boarding house for McMinnie & Simms when they built the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Pittsburgh to Altoona. Also ran the Central Hotel at Seward, PA.

According to his military pension file, marriage of Thomas & Edith didn't last, even though they did not divorce. It appears as though Edith brought with her a son from her previous marriage to live with her & Thomas. Thomas apparently considered him to be a deadbeat who did not want to work and maybe threw him out. Edith got mad and moved out, then filed a claim with the government for half of his military pension on the grounds that he abandoned her. She lost.

Thomas was in car wreck and had a heart attack and then pneumonia at son's home in Seward while recuperating. This led to his death.

[Janice Dias]

Anna and Frances moved to Santa Monica, California around 1910 and 1918. Frank became a very prominent doctor there and was also involved in many local business and civic projects. Lula was founding member, and the first president, of the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club. This club is still in existence today and has a very impressive headquarters in downtown Santa Monica. In addition to his medical practice, Frank Wagner was involved in several business ventures in the 1920's. In 1927, he headed up the group that purchased the (now world famous) Santa Monica Pier. He planned to greatly expand the pier. He was going to put in a yacht club and also use part of the pier for various tourist activities, such as charter fishing boats and sightseeing cruises. He also planned to build an orchestra pit at the end of the pier and have concerts. He went to the city council and had all of these projects approved. Work had actually begun when he had a heart attack in his office on the pier and died. Ownership of the pier went to Lulu, but so far (Bob Dias) hasn't been able to find out anything about when or whom she sold it.

Shortly after their marriage, they moved to southern California. The story Robert Dias (doing the family history also) heard is that Frances and Lulu acquired lots of land there and at one time owned much of what is now Santa Monica. Robert (Bob) Dias will check out this story. 1920 census, lived on Washington Blvd. Santa Monica

Samuel Butler was buried in Hice-Pershing Cemetery, East Wheatfield Cemetery, Indiana County, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Samuel Butler:

William David Butler, the writer of, "The Butler Family IN America" wrote,

After his father's death, Samuel was raised up by his mother's parents and as of 1897 at the age of 79, he was still living. He is a lifelong, practical, prudent, and well-to-do-farmer.

While quite a lad, he entered the employ of Alexander Elliott in a general store at Armagh, then a principal stopping place for the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh stage on the old State turnpike. He remained three years with Elliott and saved all of his earnings. At this time, he joined the State militia with which he was for years connected. With his savings he bought timber land and started saw-mills in a modest way. He prospered in this business and steadily increased his holdings, enlarged his saw-mills and became a leader in the lumber business. As the lands were cleared of their timbers, he engaged in farming and stock raising, all the time in Indiana Co. PA.

In May, 1845, Samuel Butler was married to Elizabeth, daughter of George Faulkner (Fulcomer) and Catherine Cline. daughter of Henry Cline, who served in the Rangers on the frontier during the Revolution (see PA. archives, Third Series, Vol. 23, pg. 209, 265)

Samuel was a model husband, a kind father, a Christian gentleman and a respected and honorable citizen. He ever displayed, as the grandson of a Revolutionary hero, the deepest interest in the affairs of his state and country. In politics, he was first a Whig and then a Republican and he never hesitated to let his public convictions be known, he however refused to allow his name to be used in connection with candidacy for a political office.

Samuel Butler, after his marriage, joined the Evangelical Lutheran Church, to which his wife already belonged. He was for many years treasurer and deacon in the church at New Florence. He practiced Christianity in his daily life, being ever ready to succor, serve and care for any whom he might find distress.

He passed away full of years and reverential respect, April 29, 1899, and was mourned sincerely and deeply by hundreds of his fellows. His mortal remains repose in the old family burial grounds one mile from where he spent so many generously fruitful years. The funeral was the largest ever seen in the section, people coming from far and near to pay their laast respects to a good citizen, faithful friend and revered patriarch.

All the information that Bob Dias has seen, regarding Henry and Elizabeth, has said they were buried in the Dias cemetery. At a young age he and a friend started off to Pittsburgh to enlist, but his father either got word or was suspicious and showed up before they could join. A few months later, in 1863, he slipped off again to Greenburg and enlisted when not quite seventeen. He got into the thick of the fight very soon; first as a guard at Washington, where he saw President Lincoln every day going to the hospitals for his regular visits.

Under the command of Col. Dick Coulter, he was ordered to take care of the Weldon Railroad. This command was part of the big effort to take Richmond. He was in the four day battle of the Wilderness and later Spotsylvania and Cold Harbor. He was shot through both legs, but not with the same bullet or at the same time, he attempted to crawl out of harm's way and was shot in the other leg.

He was a large man, more than six feet tall and built in proportion, and over the years he had sympathy and good-will to men.

Operated a boarding house for McMinnie & Simms when they built the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Pittsburgh to Altoona. Also ran the Central Hotel at Seward, PA.

According to his military pension file, marriage of Thomas & Edith didn't last, even though they did not divorce. It appears as though Edith brought with her a son from her previous marriage to live with her & Thomas. Thomas apparently considered him to be a deadbeat who did not want to work and maybe threw him out. Edith got mad and moved out, then filed a claim with the government for half of his military pension on the grounds that he abandoned her. She lost.

Thomas was in car wreck and had a heart attack and then pneumonia at son's home in Seward while recuperating. This led to his death.

Thomas, Albert G., coal dealer and contractor, and one of the promising young business men of New Orleans, is a son of George Washington and Mary Ella (Dias) Thomas, and was born in Pittsburg, June 6, 1881. George W. Thomas was born in Pittsburg, March 21, 1857, and is still living there, a dealer in bituminous coal. He is a son of George Thomas, who was born in Wales and when quite a young man came to America with his father, who settled in the Monongahela valley. George Thomas and his father were both in the coal business, so that G. W. Thomas is the third and A. G. Thomas is the fourth generation of the family to follow this calling. Mary Ella Dias was born near Pittsburg in the Monongahela valley, in 1858. She was the daughter of Joseph and Mary J. (Duncan) Dias. Joseph Dias was a farmer who later engaged in the iron business. The Duncans were farmers. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Thomas were the parents of the following children: Charles Fremont, Albert G., Minerva Griffith, Iva Jane and Anna Mary. Albert G. Thomas his father, and grandfather, all sent coal from Pittsburg to New Orleans. George Thomas floated coal down the river on barges before there were any steamers, and sold the coal with the barge. There are some men in New Orleans who made a large amount of money buying barges after they were unloaded some selling for as low a price as $20. A. G. Thomas spent his youth in Pittsburg, where he attended public school until 16 years of age. He then went to the Western University of Pennsylvania, at Pittsburg, and took civil and mechanical engineering, graduating in the civil engineering course with a degree of B. C. E., in 1900. He followed engineering (principally mining engineering) for about 2 years, and then engaged in the coal trade with his father in Pittsburg. In 1904 he was sent to New Orleans to take charge of the operations here and continued this line until 1906, when the business was absorbed by a trust, the Monongahela River Coal Co. In 1907 Mr. Thomas engaged in the coal and dredging business for himself. The dealing in coal consists of buying and selling that product at wholesale, the trade extending throughout the South and Southwest as far as Houston, Tex. Much of this coal comes from Pittsburg by river and some from Kentucky, by both river and rail. There is also a large amount which comes from Alabama and is shipped mostly by rail. The dredging operations consist of contract work for the reclamation of meadow land, and also for channels to make some streams navigable. He now has 5 dredges at work, and has contracts for reclaiming a considerable tract of land on the west bank of the Mississippi south of New Orleans, and also some on Lake Pontchartrain for the New Orleans Land Co.

Anna and Frances moved to Santa Monica, California around 1910 and 1918. Frank became a very prominent doctor there and was also involved in many local business and civic projects. Lula was founding member, and the first president, of the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club. This club is still in existence today and has a very impressive headquarters in downtown Santa Monica. In addition to his medical practice, Frank Wagner was involved in several business ventures in the 1920's. In 1927, he headed up the group that purchased the (now world famous) Santa Monica Pier. He planned to greatly expand the pier. He was going to put in a yacht club and also use part of the pier for various tourist activities, such as charter fishing boats and sightseeing cruises. He also planned to build an orchestra pit at the end of the pier and have concerts. He went to the city council and had all of these projects approved. Work had actually begun when he had a heart attack in his office on the pier and died. Ownership of the pier went to Lulu, but so far (Bob Dias) hasn't been able to find out anything about when or whom she sold it.

Shortly after their marriage, they moved to southern California. The story Robert Dias (doing the family history also) heard is that Frances and Lulu acquired lots of land there and at one time owned much of what is now Santa Monica. Robert (Bob) Dias will check out this story.

two of their friends (husband and wife). Sandy eventually moved back in with Bill who was, shortly thereafter, diagnosed with terminal cancer. During this period, Sandy became pregnant with her second child, Marc, who was born June 11, 1961. Bill died October the same year. It was necessary for Sandy to find a job and go to work two weeks after Marc's birth, as they had no income otherwise.

Sandy only remembers Bill's dad, Francis Vernon Dias, as he never came to their house (or apartment) and when Bill died. He never made any effort to help the grandchildren, even though they were quite destitute. Francis came to the funeral and then immediately left and went back to Pennsylvania. Sandy recalls that Bill felt rather close to his grandmother (the mother of Annabelle Watson) but Sandy never met her and knows nothing of the rest of Bill's family. Sandy was abandoned by her own mother when she was about six years old, and then her in-laws.

Notes for Gertrude Pittman:

The Indiana Gazette, Indiana, Pennsylvania (September 2, 1898)

Mr. M. A. Miller, of Bolivar, and Miss Gertrude Pittman, of Brushvalley township, were united in marriage last Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed at the M. E. parsonage in Mechanicsburg by Rev. J. M. Cogley.

According to the 1920 Census, Gertrude and her family were living in Bolivar, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania.

This write-up was believed to be written by Ruth (Warfel) Robertson:

Andrew and Hannah Pittman were parents of three children, Alphorettam, a baby girl who died at the age of four months and seventeen days. Harry contracted pneumonia and died at the age of nineteen. The four of them are buried in a small cemetery located on Cemetery Road, off route 259N, near the town of Brush Valley, Pa.

Gertrude Pittman, the surviving child of Andrew and Hannah (Pittman) Pittman, Hannah no relation to Andrew, lived on a farm outside of Brush Valley with her parents. The farm was large and today route 259N goes through the "cow pasture" that belonged to the farm. The farm house is still standing with a few changes and the barn is also there in fair condition. When Andrew and Hannah sold their farm they moved into the town of Brush Valley. The house is located along the main highway and directly across from a small gas station-grocery store. After Hannah died in 1928, Andrew sold the house and went to Homewood, Pa. to live with his daughter Gertrude.

Matthew Anderson Miller, son of Michael and Susan (Lapool) Miller, lived about two miles past the Pittman's farm. Michael Miller ran a grist mill on his farm, his other children were John Shields, Golden, Gladys, and Annie.

When Gertrude Pittman married Matthew Miller they moved to Bolivar, Pa., where Matthew worked at Hammonds grist mill and lived in the house beside it. The grist mill was located across the creek from the old Bolivar ball field, near the railroad arch, where the creek flows into the Conemaugh River. His brother John Shields also worked with him. Florence (1899) and Cora (1902) Miller were born in this house. From here the family moved to the corner of Second and Shaffer Street, this house was later known as the Moose Lodge Home.

Andrew Pittman bought a parcel of land on Shaffer Street in Bolivar for his daughter Gertrude, and Matthew built the family home and his own flour mill. Edna (1904) and Gladys (1910) Miller were born here. The local farmers brought their corn and other grains to the mill to be ground and Matthew also made flour and sold to other customers in town.

At the beginning of every summer the Pittman Grandparent's would arrive at the home of Gertrude and Matthew in their horse and buggy, which had a seat in back of the driver's seat, and take Florence and Cora to the farm to spend the summer. This was about a four hour trip which started after lunch. Edna was not well enough to stay and Gladys was too young, but they did visit the farm with their mother at other times. Florence and Cora did small house jobs for their grand mother and would ride in the horse and buggy with their grandpap to take milk, butter and cheese into Indiana (Pa.) to sell on Saturdays.

When work was slow at the grist mill Matthew started working for Ridgeview Coal Company. While working outside doing heavy lifting he was injured and died within two days at the age of 50. He is buried in West View Cemetery, Bolivar, Pa. One of Cora's fond memories of her dad was his taking Florence and her on Sunday visits to the Modesto (Mose) Bernabo farm, who sold milk to the local town people. The farm was located half way up the ridge above the West Bolivar bridge. Also after the girls grandmother Miller died, their grandfather Michael Miller came to live with them until his death in 1912. He always sat in a chair beside the coal stove and slept a lot. About eight years after Matthew died Gertrude married a former boyfriend who had lived in Brush Valley, Daniel Donahey, and they moved to Homewood, Pa. Daniel worked for the post office. Florence, Cora and Edna were married but Gladys was not and was living with her mother and step-father. Gertrude had asthma most of her life and was ill a lot of the time. She contracted pneumonia and died in 1930. Against the girls wishes, she was buried in Homewood Cemetery. Her daughter Edna Mae Miller Wunschell is also buried there. Four years after Gertrude's death Daniel committed suicide using a small hand revolver and is buried beside Gertrude in

Ellsworth Long and Jeannett Irene Dowden, in 1958 in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania.¹ She was born on 22 Jul 1937 in Greensburg, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania.¹

Notes for William McCandless Dias:

[Janice Dias]

William and Sandra didn't enjoy a good relationship, even though they were married.

After their marriage in Westmoreland County, PA, they moved to Pittsburgh where their first child was born February 1959 and not long after Jan's birth, Sandy left Bill and took a train to Tampa, Florida where her parents just moved to. Sometime later Bill arrived in Tampa with two of their friends (husband and wife). Sandy eventually moved back in with Bill who was, shortly thereafter, diagnosed with terminal cancer. During this period, Sandy became pregnant with her second child, Marc, who was born June 11, 1961. Bill died October the same year. It was necessary for Sandy to find a job and go to work two weeks after Marc's birth, as they had no income otherwise.

Sandy only remembers Bill's dad, Francis Vernon Dias, as he never came to their house (or apartment) and when Bill died. He never made any effort to help the grandchildren, even though they were quite destitute. Francis came to the funeral and then immediately left and went back to Pennsylvania. Sandy recalls that Bill felt rather close to his grandmother (the mother of Annabelle Watson) but Sandy never met her and knows nothing of the rest of Bill's family. Sandy was abandoned by her own mother when she was about six years old, and then her in-laws.

Notes for Sandra Fay Long:

[Janice Dias]

After Sandra's husband, William died, she met Julian Anderson while attending school in Jacksonville, Florida February, 1963 and was married the same year. She was married two months when Julian accepted a promotion and they moved to Tampa where Julian adopted both of Sandra's children and changed their names to Jan Lynn Anderson and Marc William Anderson.

Just before Christmas of 1964, Jan (age 5) and Marc (not yet 3) received a Christmas card from their grandfather Francis Vernon Dias. It contained a $5.00 check for both their Christmas presents and a short note saying if their mother ever remarried and changed their names that they would be cut out of his will. Sandra put the card and the $5.00 check in an envelope and mailed it back to him. Neither one of them ever heard from him again.

Julian, now the father, is searching the Dias family for his two children who know nothing about their ancestors.

As a retired Pennsylvania State Trooper, he had many stories of his career he would discuss with enthusiasm.

Wayne also faced challenges and had his struggles. Life was not always easy for him or those around him, and he made his share of mistakes. Despite these, he taught us the importance of learning from our mistakes and the ability to apologize.

He leaves behind a family and countless friends that will remember his strength, his complexity, and his love. We choose to honor both his good and bad moments, recognizing that they shaped the person he
